Perfectly integrated into nature, the orientation of the plot guarantees complete privacy alongside breathtaking, panoramic sea and golf views. The Final Opportunity on This Ridge As the last of three adjoining plots, this villa represents a rare, privileged acquisition. Both neighbouring properties, to the left and right, have already been fully developed and sold to their new owners, establishing an exclusive, settled environment. Once this final villa is completed, you will enjoy absolute tranquillity, with no further construction noise or neighbourhood disruption. Award-Winning Architecture & Swiss Management The project is designed by one of Andalucía's most acclaimed contemporary architecture practices. Recognised internationally with multiple German Design Awards, a DNA Paris Design Award, and a WAN Award - including for the nearby villa, also in Sotogrande - the studio masterfully harmonises striking modern architecture with the Mediterranean landscape. To guarantee seamless execution, the entire development is overseen by an experienced Swiss project manager, from inception to handing over the keys. Exceptional Design & Smart Living Panoramic sea and golf views are enjoyed from virtually every corner all terraces, the pool, kitchen, living areas and the private suites - with complete privacy throughout. The established Mediterranean garden features mature trees and can be tailored to balance sunny spots and natural shade without compromising the view. Months of meticulous planning by the architect, project manager, landscape gardener and interior designer ensure absolute design integrity, with no compromise on functionality. A prime example is the main entrance, where smart glass technology replaces traditional walls: with a single click, windows shift from transparent to opaque to optimise light, shade and climate control while preserving uninterrupted vistas. Flexible Layout & Customization Entrance Level: Expansive living room, a spacious en-suite bedroom, private gym, open and covered terraces, and an infinity pool. First Floor: Three further en-suite bedrooms, a secondary living room, numerous private terraces, and a roof garden. Lower Level: Set one level below the entrance floor, this walk-out level still enjoys genuine natural light on the valley side, thanks to the elevated, partly cantilevered pool and terrace above - effectively a second, lower garden rather than a conventional basement. It can be fully customised to include one or two additional en-suite bedrooms, a private spa, or entertainment spaces, allowing for anywhere from 4 up to 6 bedrooms in total. Technical Highlights: Full underfloor heating, an advanced domotic system, a private elevator, and solar energy integration. Within this existing volume, the entire concept can be tailored to your specific needs. Clients can choose to have the villa finished precisely to the architect's award-winning design, or collaborate closely on materials (Italian Carrara marble versus solid wood), kitchen concepts, and custom additions such as a larger gym, extra bedrooms, an office, underground parking, or extra entertaining space. We are equally open to both approaches.
