Upon entering, you are immediately enveloped by an impressive open-plan living area that radiates an immediate sense of expansive space and abundant natural light. The pitched ceilings, adorned with exposed wooden beams, soar to breathtaking heights of four metres, adding remarkable architectural character and voluminous appeal. The villa's strategic east, south, and west orientations ensure that sunlight gracefully sweeps through the property throughout the day, illuminating every exquisite detail.

Floor-to-ceiling sliding doors and elegant colonial-style windows artfully connect the main living areas with the expansive surrounding terraces.
